Audit Findings

Audit Narrative

The audit of the Rockingham-Harrisonburg Regional Jail (RHRJ) was conducted on May 20 – 21, 2019 by Department of Justice Certified PREA auditor, Ian Rachal. All documentation in relation to the applicable Jail and Prison PREA standards was delivered prior to the audit by facility personnel via electronic transfer. Written correspondence was not received from RHRJ offenders prior to or after the audit, despite an abundance of facility notices placed throughout the facility.

The on-site audit began with an entrance meeting RHRJ PREA personnel on May 20th. Immediately following this entrance meeting a facility tour was conducted.

The tour began in the facility Intake area where information materials were inspected, and phone access was checked. Since their last PREA audit RHRJ has made substantive improvements to the area in relation to affording inmates with privacy while showering. "In Use" lighted signs are located by each shower along with magnetic window covers denoting which gender is currently using the shower.

The general population housing dorms are indirectly supervised designs featuring individual cells. Inmate shower and community toilet areas feature curtains and walled partitions to afford inmates the ability to shower or perform bodily functions without opposite gender staff viewing them. Segregation housing featured individual cells with toilets inside the cell and adjacent showers. Inmate housing areas all featured educational materials near the telephone locations for discrete accessibility.

During the course of the tour, the dry storage and freezer areas were toured. Both areas featured sufficient video monitoring and staff surveillance. The inmate laundry area featured exceptional video monitoring for an area its size, with multiple lines of site covered. The central control area was staffed by a male employee tasked with monitoring video feeds from throughout the facility. While viewing the camera feeds displayed, digital privacy areas were viewed which are used to obscure the images of toilets to afford offenders privacy while using the bathroom.

Security staff utilize an electronic pipe-style device to record security rounds in inmate housing areas. These staff were viewed making rounds on a regular basis providing offenders the opportunity to address issues or report concerns. There was a good amount of physical security present in all living areas.

There were 7 reported allegations of sexual abuse at the facility in the calendar year preceding this audit. Documented sexual abuse incident review were conducted for all finished investigations.

Over 20 line-level and supervisory personnel were interviewed during the course of the audit. I found them to be sufficiently informed about their duties and responsibilities in relation to the requirements of PREA. All staff members have been trained in accordance with PREA requirements.

Investigative employees have received specialized training in relation to investigating sexual abuse in a confinement setting. Investigative employees displayed veteran knowledge of their roles and responsibilities.

Medical personnel have received specialized training in relation to medical responsibilities. While medical personnel were familiar with the basic requirements of their positions, they would be well-served to receive some refresher training. RCSO officials should continue to work with their contracted medical services vendor (Southern Health) to ensure a full saturation of knowledge.

An alphabetized listing of all inmates housed at the facility was provided and several inmates were randomly selected from each housing unit (20 total). There were no hearing/vision impaired inmates presented during my visit. One Spanish speaking inmate was interviewed, which required the use of translation services. Contracted telephone-based interpretation services were utilized.

The current population is all-male with the entirety of the female population held at the Middle River Regional Jail in Staunton, Virginia, due to renovations being performed. At the current time, the Middle River Regional Jail is not PREA-compliant and will need to be prior to RHRJ's next PREA audit.

One transgender inmate was interviewed during the course of the random interviews. This transgender inmate was currently undergoing hormone treatment. This inmate reported that they had not experienced any incidents of abuse at the audited facility and expressed no concerns of harassment.

Several specialized interviews were conducted to include:

- PREA Coordinator
- PREA Investigators
- Facility supervisors
- Human Resources personnel
- Medical personnel
- Classification/Intake personnel
- Agency administrators

I found that personnel serving in these roles to be skilled and knowledgeable concerning their requirements in relation to the Prison Rape Elimination Act. Based on the documentation received, facility tour, conducted interviews, I find that RHRJ is in full compliance with the Prison Rape Elimination Act standards.

Facility Characteristics

The Rockingham County Sheriff's Office is a full service, fully accredited law enforcement agency. Service areas include Rockingham County, the independent City of Harrisonburg and the incorporated towns of Bridgewater, Broadway, Dayton, Elkton, Grottoes, Mt. Crawford and Timberville. The Rockingham – Harrisonburg area covers 871 square miles of land and is the home to about 126,500 persons.

The County, formed in 1778 from Augusta County, is bounded on the west by the Allegheny Mountains and on the east by the crest of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The County is situated at the headwaters of the Shenandoah River and is bisected by Interstate 81. The Rockingham/Harrisonburg area is approximately 110 miles north of Roanoke, 125 miles west of Richmond, 125 miles southwest of Washington D.C., and 68 miles south of the Virginia Inland Port. Approximately 32.6 percent of Rockingham County is protected by the Federal Government as National Forest and National Park land.

Rockingham County Sheriff's Deputies patrol 159 miles of primary roads and 885 miles of secondary roads. There are approximately 69,148 license drivers in the Rockingham – Harrisonburg area. In addition, James Madison University, Eastern Mennonite University and Bridgewater College are within Rockingham County which significantly increases the number of persons using primary and secondary roads.

Rockingham County once considered an exclusively farming and rural area, is now one of Virginia's fastest growing areas where diversity provides an economic foundation not easily shaken. The Shenandoah Valley is where business and agriculture meet and each adds to our growing, thriving community. Major manufacturing centers ship to clients along the East Coast and into the Midwest – supplying food, auto parts, consumer goods, books and much more.

Visitors and residents alike enjoy recreational opportunities provided by areas of the National Forest, Massanutten Resort, two public golf courses, one private golf course and one municipal golf course. Other popular recreational areas include Lake Shenandoah, fishing and canoeing on the Shenandoah River, Riven Rock Park west of the City of Harrisonburg, and Endless Caverns near historical New Market. The Rockingham/Harrisonburg area enjoys mild winters and warm summers with an average annual temperature of 53 degrees Fahrenheit and an average annual precipitation of 35 inches.

The RHRJ facility is a multi-level, indirectly supervised detention facility. The RHRJ employs over 70 employees who supervise 290 inmates. The current population is all-male with the entirety of the female population held at the Middle River Regional Jail in Staunton, Virginia, due to renovations being performed.

Each housing area featured approximately 4 individual living areas monitored by an attached control room area. Rounds were performed by teams of two personnel and supervisors were seen performing unannounced rounds on an irregular basis.

Summary of Audit Findings

All RCSO staff interviewed displayed knowledge of PREA responsibilities and could articulate the meaning of RCSO's zero tolerance policy. RCSO staff was knowledgeable about their roles and responsibilities in the prevention, reporting and response to sexual abuse and sexual harassment. RCSO staff articulated reporting mechanisms for inmates and staff to use to report sexual abuse or sexual harassment. All staff were well trained on the PREA first responder's protocols and could clearly articulate the steps they would follow if they were the first responder to an incident.

Inmates interviewed responded that RCSO personnel treated them with respect. Inmates were well-versed in RCSO's reporting mechanisms and efforts to protect them from sexual abuse and harassment. RCSO has numerous mechanisms in place for inmates, their families, and the general public to report allegations and receive information in regard to PREA and receive assistance for underlying issues of sexual victimization or predatory behaviors.

This auditor was allowed to speak freely with all offenders and staff during my visit and was treated in a very hospitable fashion. Facility leadership were responsive and knowledgeable. Line staff took great pride in their areas of responsibility and were all well trained in regard to the requirements of PREA.

All inmates are assessed during an intake screening and upon transfer to another facility for risk of being sexually abused by other inmates or sexually abusive toward other inmates. Intake screenings take place within 72 hours of arrival at RHRJ. RHRJ uses an objective screening instrument.

The intake screening considers, at a minimum, the following criteria to assess inmates for risk of sexual victimization:

- (1) Whether the inmate has a mental, physical, or developmental disability;
- (2) The age of the inmate;
- (3) The physical build of the inmate;
- (4) Whether the inmate has previously been incarcerated;
- (5) Whether the inmate's criminal history is exclusively nonviolent;
- (6) Whether the inmate has prior convictions for sex offenses against an adult or child;
- (7) Whether the inmate is or is perceived to be gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, intersex, or gender nonconforming;
- (8) Whether the inmate has previously experienced sexual victimization;
- (9) The inmate's own perception of vulnerability; and
- (10) Whether the inmate is detained solely for civil immigration purposes.

The initial screening considers prior acts of sexual abuse, prior convictions for violent offenses, and history of prior institutional violence or sexual abuse, as known to RHRJ, in assessing inmates for risk of being sexually abusive.

An inmate's risk level is reassessed when warranted due to a referral, request, incident of sexual abuse, or receipt of additional information that bears on the inmate's risk of sexual victimization or abusiveness.

Inmates are asked if they wish to divulge their sexual orientation in addition to the reviewing personnel's perception. Within 30 days from the inmate's arrival at RHRJ, RHRJ reassesses all inmate's risk of victimization or abusiveness based upon any additional, relevant information received by RHRJ since the intake screening.

Inmates are not disciplined for refusing to answer, or for not disclosing complete information in response to, questions asked.

RHRJ has implemented appropriate controls on the dissemination within RHRJ of responses to questions asked pursuant to this standard in order to ensure that sensitive information is not exploited to the inmate's detriment by staff or other inmates. All files are controlled by Classification personnel behind locked doors and maintained in each inmates Classification files.

RHRJ uses information from the risk screening to decide housing, bed, work, education, and program assignments with the goal of keeping separate those inmates at high risk of being sexually victimized from those at high risk of being sexually abusive.
RHRJ makes individualized determinations about how to ensure the safety of each inmate. In deciding housing and programming for a transgender or intersex inmate RHRJ considers on a case-by-case basis whether the placement would ensure the inmate's health and safety, and whether the placement would present management or security problems.
Placement and programming assignments for each transgender or intersex inmate is reassessed at least twice each year to review any threats to safety experienced by the inmate.
A transgender or intersex inmate's own view with respect to his or her own safety are be given serious consideration.
RHRJ does not place lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, or intersex inmates in dedicated facilities, units, or wings solely on the basis of such identification or status.
The GBT inmates I interviewed were housed in the general population. The showers in this units were designed in such a way to afford privacy for all assigned inmates.

RHRJ has a policy to protect all inmates and staff who report sexual abuse or sexual harassment or cooperates with sexual abuse or sexual harassment investigations from retaliation by other inmates or staff and designates the PREA Coordinator with monitoring retaliation.

RHRJ has multiple protection measures, such as housing changes or transfers for inmate victims or abusers, removal of alleged staff or inmate abusers from contact with victims, and emotional support services for inmates or staff that fear retaliation for reporting sexual abuse or sexual harassment or for cooperating with investigations.

For at least 90 days following a report of sexual abuse, RHRJ monitors the conduct and treatment of inmates or staff who reported the sexual abuse and of inmates who were reported to have suffered sexual abuse to see if there are changes that may suggest possible retaliation by inmates or staff, and are act promptly to remedy any such retaliation. There are periodic status checks performed. Items RHRJ monitors include any inmate disciplinary reports, housing, or program changes, or negative performance reviews or reassignments of staff. RHRJ continues such monitoring beyond 90 days if the initial monitoring indicates a continuing need.

If any other individual who cooperates with an investigation expresses a fear of retaliation, RHRJ takes appropriate measures to protect that individual against retaliation.

RCSO conducts investigations promptly, thoroughly, and objectively for all allegations, including third-party and anonymous reports.
Where sexual abuse is alleged, RCSO uses investigators who have received special training in sexual abuse investigations in confinement settings.

Investigators gather and preserve direct and circumstantial evidence, including any available physical and DNA evidence and any available electronic monitoring data; interview alleged victims, suspected perpetrators, and witnesses; and review prior complaints and reports of sexual abuse involving the suspected perpetrator.

When the quality of evidence appears to support criminal prosecution, investigators conducts compelled interviews only after consulting with prosecutors as to whether compelled interviews may be an obstacle for subsequent criminal prosecution.

The credibility of an alleged victim, suspect, or witness is assessed on an individual basis and is not determined by the person's status as inmate or staff. No agency requires an inmate who alleges sexual abuse to submit to a polygraph examination or other truth-telling device as a condition for proceeding with the investigation of such an allegation.

Administrative investigations include efforts to determine whether staff actions or failures to act contributed to the abuse; and are documented in written reports that include a description of the physical and testimonial evidence, the reasoning behind credibility assessments, and investigative facts and findings.

Criminal investigations are documented in a written report that contains a thorough description of physical, testimonial, and documentary evidence and attaches copies of all documentary evidence where feasible.

Substantiated allegations of conduct that appears to be criminal are referred for prosecution. RHRJ retains all written reports for as long as the alleged abuser is incarcerated or employed, plus five years.

The departure of the alleged abuser or victim from the employment or control of RHRJ does not provide a basis for terminating an investigation.
